PROFILE

Business founder and research-oriented content creator with experience in e-commerce information, customer-focused marketing copy, SEO research and technical communication. Currently writing a Persian-language textbook on data-driven off-page SEO and link building. Combines practical WordPress/WooCommerce knowledge, search-intent analysis, structured research, and AI-assisted editorial workflows with years of cross-functional business and client management.

RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Independent SEO Researcher & Educational Author | 2026 – Present

- Writing “Data-Driven Off-Page SEO and Link Building,” a Persian SEO textbook in progress, structured as 7 sections and 28 planned chapters; initial instructional lessons drafted.
- Developed an evidence-led chapter format with learning objectives, plain-language explanations, real website case studies, independent exercises and editorial checks.
- Compared search intent, on-page content elements, backlink signals and link-building practices using Refahston and Digikala as case-study websites; incorporated Ahrefs research and careful source verification.

Founder, SaaS Marketing & Content — Revivio | 2026 – Present

- Developed and edited English-language social content, product positioning and simple marketing messages for a SaaS service connecting business inquiries with WhatsApp.
- Researched service businesses in European markets and refined AI-assisted, locally tailored outreach copy in Portuguese, Spanish and English, grounding messages in available business information.
- Organized lead research, content drafts and follow-up status using Google Sheets, CRM-style tracking and automation workflows.

Founder, E-commerce & Customer Content Operations — Refahston | 2019 – 2025

- Built and managed a consumer e-commerce business with a WordPress/WooCommerce presence, installment sales and a regional representative network.
- Coordinated product information, customer explanations and purchase-process communication for electronics and home appliances, working across business, technical and sales functions.
- Used Excel, CRM systems and automated data workflows to keep commercial information and customer processes organized.

Founder & General Manager — Saman Monavar Ostovar | 2015 – Present

- Led technical project teams, researched tender requirements, prepared client-facing proposals and documentation, and translated complex specifications into clear business decisions.
